US ISM services PMI accelerated to 54.5 in Aug'23 (est. 52.5) from 52.7 in Jul'23, once again attesting to the strength of the US economy. Elsewhere, growth indicators remained muted. In Germany, factory orders fell more than expected by 11.7% (est. -4%) in Jul'23 on a MoM basis, following a 7.6% increase in Jun'23. Retail sales in the Euro Area declined by 0.2% in Jul'23 (MoM) (est. -0.1%) after increasing by 0.2% in Jun'23. In China, both exports and imports contracted further in Aug'23 suggesting that the economy continues to face headwinds even as the pace of decline has weakened. Exports declined by 8.8% in Aug'23, less than the estimated 9.2% decline. Imports too contracted less than expected by 7.3% in Aug'23 versus expectations of a 9% drop.

- Global indices ended mixed as concerns over China's growth aggravated. US indices ended in red, amidst rising crude oil prices and subdued growth in labor market highlighted in the beige book surveys. European indices too closed lower after disappointing manufacturing and services data. On the other hand, Nikkei closed in green. Sensex too rose by 0.2%. However, it is trading lower today, in line with other Asian stocks.

- Global currencies ended broadly weaker. DXY rose further by 0.1% as US ISM services PMI edged up more than expected in Aug'23. EUR closed unchanged despite weak macro data (Germany factory orders and EU retail sales). INR depreciated by 0.1% weighed down by a strong dollar and higher oil prices. It is trading further weaker today, in line with its Asian peers.

- Except Japan and India (flat), global yields closed higher. Germany's 10Y yield rose the most by 4bps following comments by ECB officials. 10Y yield in US edged up after US ISM services PMI came in stronger than expected. Despite a jump in oil prices, India's 10Y yield closed flat. It is trading at 7.19% today.
