Commentary

- Indian markets extended their upward momentum on Friday, with the Nifty ending the week higher by 1.57%. Bank Nifty gained over 400 points intraday to close above the 56500 mark.
- Most sectoral indices finished in the green, except the Metal and IT indices which witnessed profit booking. The FMCG index appears oversold in the short term, indicating the possibility of a rebound in the coming sessions, while PSU banks are expected to outperform.
- For Monday's session, markets are likely to open with a gap-down. However, 25125 is expected to act as a strong support for Nifty. In Bank Nifty, initial support is placed at 56300, and the broader bias remains positive as long as the index sustains above this level.
